MacGregor gloves and mitts have long been recognized throughout the baseball world for their exclusive design features and quality construction which assures maximum playability and service. Many of these features are expressed in special terminology within the description of each glove or mitt. Here is a detailed explanation of the terms:

1 "HAND LASTED" — An exclusive MacGregor pre-conditioning process which softens and molds the leather, making the glove ready for play without the normal break-in period.

2 "FLEX-PAD" — Palm padding is broken in corner to form a flexible catching area which responds to the slightest hand movement.

3 "CONTOUR CUT" — Streamlined cut of fingers and heel form a functional rounded profile for faster play and comfortable fit.

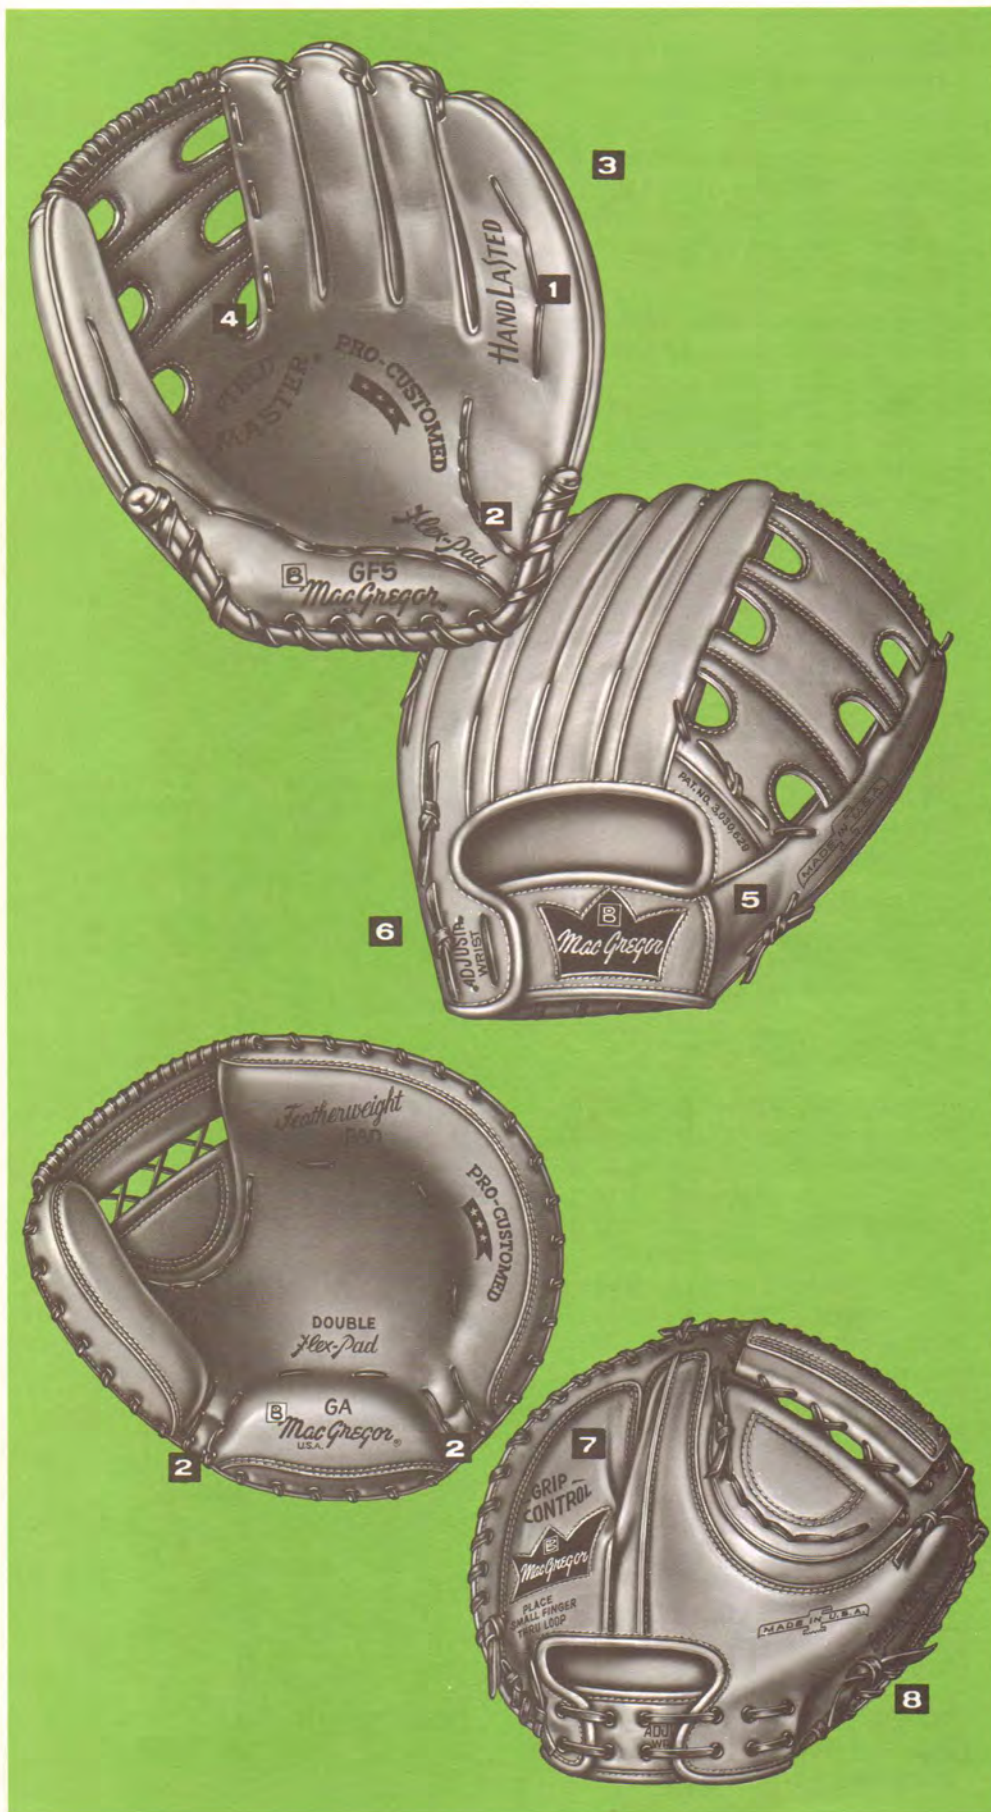

4 "FIELD MASTER®" — One piece palm and web design which forms a smooth, deep pocket. MacGregor Patent No. 3,030,629.

5 "PLASTRUM REINFORCER" — Specially molded polyethylene insert keeps thumb perfectly shaped. Removable.

6 "ADJUSTA-WRIST" — Lacing on wrist strap permits adjustment of opening to hand size for comfortable fit . . . better control.

7 "GRIP CONTROL" — Open pocket area on back of catcher's mitt allows freedom of finger placement for maximum safety and control.

8 "BREAK LOCK" — Special adjustable lacing on catcher's mitt keeps thumb section from flexing outward — helps prevent thumb injuries.

MacGregor introduces the ultimate in baseball gloves created in supple . . . sturdy Kangaroo skin.

This luxurious leather makes a glove so flexible it responds to the slightest finger movement . . . yet so firm it will not wrinkle or lose its shape.
